Regional Technical Workshop on Climate Responsive Budgeting

5-7 November 2014
Bangkok, Thailand
Background

1. How is climate change policy articulated in public expenditure? (national planning and budgeting processes)
2. Focus on the budget
3. Understanding the ‘Whole of government’ approach - Institutions
4. National and Sub-national focus
5. Are we reaching the most vulnerable? - Better prioritization of scarce resources
6. Lessons learnt from other cross-cutting experiences
7. Encourage CSO involvement and participation in CRB
Workshop Objective

• Consider how budgets can be used as a policy tool to address climate change challenges at national and sub-national level.

• Look at specific strategies to strengthen climate responsive budgeting in Asia-Pacific.
Survey for the Asia-Pacific Technical Workshop on Climate Responsive Budgeting 2014
What do you hope to take back?

- Practical knowledge and experience sharing
- A clear idea on how to best to integrate climate change into national budgets
- Specific methodologies, and experiences or lessons of other counties.
- To see how other countries integrate climate change to their budget process to ensure that responses to Climate Change challenges are efficient.
- To develop concrete action plan for my country
Workshop Structure

- Plenary sessions – Focus on practical experiences and lessons

- Group Sessions – Applying Learning to Country context

- South-South Clinics – Country to country exchange – Sign up
All Documents Available

- www.climatefinance-developmenteffectiveness.org/ClimateResponsiveBudgeting2014